THE BUSY CORNER.

S. Kann, Sons and Company.

For new Easter gowns. For New Easter headwear. For new Easter wraps. For new Easter lingerie. For new Easter neckfixings. In fact, for everything that is new and Easterlike. Rome would shout and howl if a glimpse could be had at such a display as we are showing. We are prepared to do the business of our lifetime from now on. Not through imaginative talk, but by cold facts which are plainly seen at every turn you make in our establishment.

The Verdiet a Surprise to Those Whe Followed the Testimony. clson Vale, colored, was convicted yes terday in Criminal Court No. 1 of the murder of Alexander Jackson, also colored, on January 14 last. This was the second onviction for murder secured during last week by Assistant District Attorney Thomas C. Taylor, representing the Gov-ernment. The other was that of Arthur Landon, colored, found guilty of the mur-der of Henry Bradley, also colored, on De-cember 12 [set oember 12 last.

was committed in front of his home at Fort Reno, on the Tenleytown Road, about a mile north of Georgetown. It was developed by the testimony that Vale and Jackson had had a difficulty about a woman named Mary Ellis, who lived with the former. Vale had found Jackson at his home on two different occasions. He warned him to stay away and, it is said, purchased a piatol with which to enforce his orders. It was stated by some of his neighbors that on the Sunday morning of the shooting Vale was heard to say that he intended to kill Jackson before the sim went down. After the killing of Jackson went down. After the killing of Jackson sun went down. After the killing of Jacksim went down. After the killing of Jackson Vale was credited with having said:
"You see it don't take me long to kill a nigger when I make up my mind to do so."

After the shooting Vale surrendered to the police. Policeman Sullvan, to whom Vale gave himself up, testified that when he did so the prisoner said that he killed Jackson because he had bothered with his woman. Vale, in his own defence, testified that when he did so he was being attacked by Jackson with bricks and stones. tacked by Jackson with bricks and stones. one of which had struck him in the side.
